The Nicene Creed

We believe in one God,
the Father, the Almighty,
maker of heaven and earth,
of all that is, seen and unseen.

We believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ,
the only Son of God,
eternally begotten of the Father,
God from God, Light from Light,
true God from true God,
begotten, not made,
of one Being with the Father;
through him all things were made.
For us and for our salvation

he came down from heaven, was incarnate of the Holy Spirit and the Virgin Mary and became truly human.
For our sake he was crucified
under Pontius Pilate;
he suffered death and was buried.
On the third day he rose again in accordance with the Scriptures;

he ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father.

He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead, and his kingdom will have no end.

We believe in the Holy Spirit,
the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is worshiped and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets.

We believe in one holy catholic* and apostolic church.

We acknowledge one baptism for the forgiveness of sins.

We look for the resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come. Amen.

universal*

(The Nicene Creed is the second oldest widely used Christian creed, following the earlier baptismal formulations that developed into the Apostles' Creed.)

The Nicene Creed

By Rev Dr T. Jeyakumar
Bishop of The Methodist Church in Malaysia

“We believe in one God, the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, and of all things visible and invisible.

And in one Lord Jesus Christ, the only begotten Son of God, begotten of the Father, Light of light, Very God of very God, begotten, not made, being of one substance with the Father; by whom all things were made; who, for us and for our salvation, came down from heaven, was incarnate, and became man; He suffered, and on the third day He rose again, ascended into heaven, and from there He shall come to judge both the living and the dead; and in the Holy Spirit.”

The original Nicene Creed of A.D. 325, as stated above, was formulated to affirm biblical truth and counter the false teachings attributed to Arius, whose heresy disturbed the Church for more than half a century. Later, in A.D. 381, additional wording was included to clarify the nature of the Holy Spirit, and subsequently, in A.D. 589, the Filioque clause (“and the Son”) was added to address the relationship between the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

This year, Christian churches are commemorating the 1700th anniversary of the opening of the first ecumenical council, held in Nicaea in 325. The Council is primarily remembered for the Nicene Creed it established. The Nicene Creed is recited by Christians as a statement of faith in the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit as one God, and affirms that Jesus was not made (as Arius claimed) but is of one substance with the Father. The Creed reflects the truth found in John 1:1-2 and Philippians 2:5-7 that Jesus Christ is God.

“In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was with God in the beginning.” (John 1:1-2, NIV)

“Your attitude should be the same as that of Christ Jesus: Who, being in very nature God, did not consider equality with God something to be grasped, but made himself nothing, taking the very nature of a servant, being made in human likeness.” (Philippians 2:5-7, NIV)

Methodists do not view creeds as equal to the Bible. To us, creeds are subordinate to Scripture. However, they are valuable when they align with the Bible. The Nicene Creed, for example, was expanded at least twice to address emerging false teachings, whereas the Bible is perfect and infallible. The Bible is God’s word to us, while the creeds are man-made confessions meant to reflect the doctrines found in the Bible.

Creeds originally emerged in the context of baptism. They were public statements of faith by believers, expressing what they believed about the doctrines of the Bible. Take, for instance, the Nicene Creed; it summarizes belief in God and helps believers articulate their faith.

In an age where heresies persist, we need to help believers understand their Christian faith by teaching the Bible first. We can then present the creeds as a summarized version of our beliefs based on Scripture, helping us remember the essentials of our faith, the controversies of the past that sought to undermine our faith, and the sacrifices believers made to guard and preserve the biblical truths, sometimes at the cost of their own lives.

140th Anniversary Celebration Methodist Charity Run (Kuala Lumpur)

By Jacqueline

As dawn broke on Saturday, April 26, the 140th Anniversary Celebration Methodist Charity Run kicked off simultaneously in Kuala Lumpur, Penang, Sarawak, and Sabah. More than just a fundraiser for the Methodist Crisis Relief and Development Fund, the run was a celebration of faith, unity, and compassion across generations.

Kuala Lumpur saw an especially enthusiastic turnout, with around 4,700 participants gathering in high spirits. The crowd pulsed with energy, each runner adding to the vibrant sense of purpose in the air.

During the opening ceremony, Mr Jacob Lee, Chair of the Crisis Relief and Development Council, reflected on the deeper meaning of the event. “This run is a powerful reminder of the unity we hold in serving others,” he shared. “For 140 years, the Methodist Church has journeyed forward by God’s grace. Through every trial and triumph, we’ve remained committed to serving our communities and responding to the world with Christ’s love.”

Rev Dr T. Jeyakumar, Bishop of The Methodist Church in Malaysia, later announced that over 11,000 people had joined the event nationwide. He expressed deep appreciation for the partnership between church departments and corporate sponsors, saying, “It is this spirit of collaboration that transforms a charity run into a nationwide movement of love. This event shows the strength and unity of the faith community.”

Rev Joshua Khong, President of the Trinity Annual Conference, led a prayer, encouraging all runners to run with joy and gratitude. “Let this be more than just a run. Let it be a memory that stays with you and a response of thankfulness to God,” he said. “This run is a witness of those who love God and their country.”

During the starting ceremony, the 10km group was flagged off by Bishop Jeyakumar, with Mr Jacob Lee sounding the whistle; the 5km group was flagged off by President of the Chinese Annual Conference, Rev Liew Kek Ming, with Chinese Annual Conference Lay leader and Chairman of the Methodist Relief and Development Ministry, Mr Ling Wee Keat, sounding the whistle; the 2km group was flagged off by Rev Joshua Khong, with Mr Lim Kah Cheng, representative of the Methodist Council of Education, sounding the whistle. As the whistle cut through the morning air, the atmosphere at the scene instantly heated up, and the runners surged forward.

On the track, stories unfolded with every step — families walking hand in hand, elderly participants moving steadily forward, and young people dashing with enthusiasm. They moved at different speeds, but shared a common goal: running for faith, running with love.

At that moment, the oldest runner came from Mega Chinese Methodist Church — a 93-year-old elder who completed the entire 10km. With every step, he embodied the strength of faith, proving that the power to run is not defined by age, but by an unwavering passion within the heart.

One runner put it simply: “I’m not here to win. I’m here to finish.” That sentiment captured the true spirit of the event — it’s not about being first, but about staying faithful to the journey God has entrusted to us.

Though the run has ended, the mission continues. The finish line marked not a conclusion, but a new beginning. Tracks may end, but love keeps moving. Our steps may pause, but our calling endures. This generation run not just for today, but to light the way for the next. We are not just covering 2km, 5km or 10km — we are running the course that leads to eternity.

Warm up exercise

Methodist Charity Run

By Steven Tee, Emmanuel Methodist Church Petaling Jaya

Saturday, April 26, 2025 - in the early hours before 5am, my wife and I woke up to prepare the kids and make our drive to Mranti Park, Bukit Jalil. We were coming from Klang and it was a long drive. The kids continued their sleep in the car but I could not, since I was driving! Then when we arrived at Mranti Park, all my "sleepy-ness" left me - we were excited to see so many people were already there, way before sunrise!

Our 96-strong contingent comprising men, women and children from Emmanuel Methodist Church, PJ came from two main ministries - Sunday School (kids, parents and teachers) and the Parents Support Group (parents with special needs children) plus other church members.

Before the flag off, there were programmes and speeches from the stage, including warming up exercises but most people were more excited taking photos and chatting with friends that we rarely meet outside of church. And yes, now we come in 'oneness', in uniform t-shirts, to 'sweat' and 'run hard' together; so different from sitting comfortably in church during service, or the makan fellowship that we usually have after service. The children were the most energetic, even before the run, they were running around with their friends, and going to the photo booth dragging their half sleepy parents with them!

Finally, it was time for the flag off and the 10km runners went first followed by the 5km runners and lastly the 2km walkers! It was so good to see so many people with the same coloured t-shirts starting the journey together. Some at the very front, shot off like 'Superman' whilst others, like me, took a slow walk. Children and youths ran or walked alongside each other and older participants just walked and chatted along the way. It was actually a good time to catch up and have more deeper conversations.

It dawned on me that the run was very much like when we first believed in Christ - we start on our journey, everyone starting from the same place; none will be in front or behind. The journey may be long or short, but if we keep to the course, we will all end at the finish line, which is the salvation that God has granted us. Along the way some may go fast, some may go slow, some may walk alone, whilst some others may walk in groups but however we walk, God is certainly with us. The people we meet along the way, the sceneries we see and the experience along the journey, is the grace and mercy God shows to us. As God's children and disciples of Christ, we are here to edify, encourage and enable others, so that their journey is filled with love and peace, before we complete our journey in this temporary world.

When we reached the finish line, many have already completed the course; taking photos with their medals, heading for the food and drink stalls or planning for breakfast!

Our thanks go to the organisers who worked really hard for this event, the many volunteers who were doing everything from guiding participants, course management and traffic control, the first-aiders who were ever ready to help, and many, many more.

We praise and thank God for the many wonderful people in our journey. Truly, only God deserves all the honour and glory.

Charity Run and Carnival to Celebrate 140 Years of Methodist Church in Malaysia

In conjunction with the 140th anniversary of The Methodist Church in Malaysia (MCM), a Charity Run and Community Carnival was held at Wesley Methodist School Penang International on Saturday, April 26, 2025. The event brought together more than 1,400 registered runners and members of the wider community for a morning of celebration, unity, and compassion.

Proceeds from the carnival would be channeled towards Methodist Crisis Relief & Development (MCRD) which provides disaster and humanitarian aid not only in Malaysia, but also abroad. Most recently, MCRD extended emergency support to communities in Myanmar following the recent earthquakes.

Guest of Honour, YB Hannah Yeoh, Minister of Youth and Sports, flagged off the event together with VIPs including Penang EXCO for Youth, Sports and Health YB Daniel Gooi, MP for Jelutong RSN Rayer, President of the Tamil Annual Conference, Rev Dr Dennis Raj and Mr Daniel Khoo, General Conference Secretary of The Methodist Church in Malaysia.

“This is something very precious about our older generation, whether they can walk or run, they will make themselves present when committed to a cause,” said YB Hannah Yeoh. “I hope our children will learn from the older generation.”

“This event is both a celebration and a call to serve,” said Mr Daniel Khoo. “While we honour 140 years of Methodist witness in Malaysia, we also look forward with a continued commitment to community care and humanitarian action.”

The Charity Run featured 2km and 5km categories, open to pre-registered participants. Following the run, a Community Carnival ran from 7:30am to 12:00noon featuring food stalls, games and health and wellness booths.

总结

卫理公会140周年庆，在万人慈善义跑的壮丽画面中圆满落幕。但这不是终点，而是新旅程的起点。跑道有限，爱心无限，信仰的接力从未止息。我们这一代脚步，正在为下一代指引方向；我们奔跑的，不只是2公里、5公里或10公里，更是上帝亲自为我们所设定的生命之路。

MODULES:

Pastor Dato Dr. Daniel Ho - School of Evangelism

Pastor Daniel Ho, a fervent Methodist leader and servant, is a passionate leader who has dedicated his life to spreading the gospel and training believers. He will conduct the School of Evangelism which seeks to examine the life of Jesus to learn how He carried out evangelism. What prejudices and obstacles did He face, and how did He overcome them? In the process, participants will learn to cultivate such a lifestyle of evangelism, which is key to church growth. There will be live testimonies and opportunities for Q&A as well.

Pastor Chris Kam - Discipleship

Pastor Chris Kam, a respected pastor and leader within the Methodist Church, is deeply committed to the discipleship journey and empowering others to grow in their faith. He will be preaching on Accountable Discipleship. He will also be equipping participants with practical ministry tools, including aspects of healing ministry and prophetic ministry – particularly how to discern the voice of God as we minister to others with sensitivity and wisdom.

Pastor Kelvin Yong - School of Missions

Pastor Kelvin Yong has a heart for global outreach and has led many mission efforts both locally and internationally. Pastor Kelvin says, “The Great Commission is not new to most, if not all, of us. The critical question we need to ask ourselves, therefore, is not what is, or why missions? Rather, it’s the how – how do we ‘practicalise’ the Messiah’s mandate in our world today?” Topics will include:

- Understanding the present global trends and developments
- Reaching peoples across cultures and spheres
- Knowing your place in God’s kingdom-expansion ecosystem
- Developing a mission framework for your church or ministry

Bishop Dr. T. Jeyakumar - School of Preaching (Full - No Further Intake)

Bishop Jeyakumar is a passionate preacher, teacher and mentor. His desire is to equip people to preach the gospel with clarity, conviction and a Christ-centred focus. In this advanced module, topics will include:

- John Wesley’s theology of preaching
- The necessity of solid exegesis
- How to explain, apply, and illustrate the sermon clearly and meaningfully
- Practical do’s and do not’s of sermon delivery
- Introduction to advanced biblical commentaries written by respected scholars
- “Offering Christ” to the congregation, as John Wesley would put it

Participants should come prepared with a short sermon (no more than 10 minutes) to present to the class. Where time permits, participants will be invited to preach, and these sermons will be followed by peer critique in a spirit of encouragement and growth.

Bantuan Myanmar: Earthquake Emergency Relief

By Leonidas Woo, Project Co-ordinator

Amid Myanmar's ongoing civil unrest and deepening humanitarian crisis, ground teams from MCRD have swiftly mobilized to deliver essential aid to communities devastated by the powerful earthquake that struck in late March 2025. Operating across Naypidaw, Mandalay, Taunggyi, and the Inle Lake region, MCRD—together with local partners—has been on the ground providing life-saving assistance since day one.

More than 1,000 beneficiaries have received critical supplies, including dry food rations, emergency shelter, free medicines, and mobile clinic services. With estimated expenditures of RM82,000.00, the relief operation has now begun transitioning from emergency response to early recovery—just in time for the approaching monsoon season. Despite the widespread destruction, government support has remained limited, and response efforts have been slowed by coordination challenges. “Many families are still sleeping outdoors—not only because their homes are destroyed, but out of fear,” shared one field volunteer. One of the most urgent needs is the construction of durable, weather-resistant housing for displaced families.

Efforts are also underway to restore access to clean water, as many wells were damaged by the earthquake. Health services remain stretched thin due to a shortage of medical personnel and functioning facilities. Education has also suffered: numerous schools have been reduced to rubble, prompting recovery teams to explore plans to rebuild classrooms and distribute water filters to support safe learning environments.

As conflict and instability continue to plague the country, these community-led relief efforts shine as a beacon of resilience and solidarity. MCRD remains committed to working alongside local partners to plan and implement long-term recovery initiatives that will help communities rebuild not just their homes, but their futures.

Personal Testimony

By Leonidas Woo

It pains my heart to see that a country as beautiful as this has been experiencing so much suffering and struggle for many decades.

I never thought I would ever set foot in this country. It has been long since I only heard negative, troubling news about what has been happening on the ground. Yet, unexpectedly as always, I found myself here—and the 12 days of my journey across this country have never ceased to amaze and surprise me every day. The incredibly delicious food, the warmth, humility, and resilience of the people, the stunning sceneries, and, last but not least, the breathtaking sunsets as beautiful as those in Malaysia.

And yet, despite all this beauty, it is painful to see that there is deep brokenness that runs alongside it. War, poverty, forced military recruitment, disasters of national scale, and orphans, widows, and widowers. Many of the people I met, live in fear and despair, longing to flee their homeland in search of a better life. Many young people I met dream of leaving, while their families remain behind, praying for their future and safety. I remember visiting an orphanage and I could never forget the faces of those children, as if they were longing for what is missing in their lives.

Still, there is this old saying that, though the night is dark, it gives way to the brightest dawn that breaks darkness. Amidst these crises, the best of people emerges from the rubble. I could see hope in those who strive for the betterment of their country. I could see that love is shared by churches and communities even in the midst of hardship. I see resilient faith in God, held by my brothers and sisters here.

What has been the most rewarding to me from these missions is that, despite different languages, cultural backgrounds, we all share the same language of love for God and His people. I pray that God will enable us to do more for this country—and that, one day, peace and prosperity will rest upon this land.

Travelling by boat to hard to reach places

MCRD – Providing Relief for Putra Heights Gas Explosion Victims

By Michael Chang, MCRD Officer

“Where are you from? I see all of you in blue uniforms,” a government officer curiously asked one of our volunteers. “I’ve noticed your team working tirelessly – sweeping, carrying water, sorting clothes. You’ve been busy every day.” With a smile, the volunteer replied, “We’re from the Methodist Church.”

This exchange took place on Day 6 of MCRD’s involvement in the Putra Heights gas explosion relief work. The incident occurred on April 1, 2025, when a gas pipeline explosion injured 150 people, destroyed nearly 90 houses, and damaged numerous vehicles. Preliminary investigations linked the disaster to nearby excavation work, triggering national concern over industrial safety practices in Malaysia.

The day after the explosion, Rev Pung Oa Siong, District Superintendent of the Chinese Annual Conference’s Central District 3, led pastors to visit the affected site and offer support. From Day 3 onwards, volunteers were deployed to serve at evacuation centres.

Over the span of seven days, Methodist Crisis Relief and Development (MCRD) mobilized a total of 91 volunteer shifts.

Although two evacuation centres were set up – Masjid Putra Heights being the main one and widely covered by the media – MCRD chose to focus on Dewan Camelia, a lesser-known site that once sheltered up to 30 families. Compared to Masjid Putra Heights, which had extensive institutional support, Dewan Camelia was in greater need of manpower to maintain operations.

Two beautiful things stood out during this mission. First, was the conversation at the beginning of this piece. Our volunteers clearly identified their faith background without overt evangelism, recognising the priority in that moment was to accompany the victims. The officer showed no resistance, only admiration for the volunteers’ contributions. Their silent service was not overlooked – it was deeply appreciated by victims and officials alike.

The second beautiful aspect was the unity of our volunteer team, composed of Methodists from three different Annual Conferences. It was a powerful testament to the wider Methodist family – crossing racial and cultural boundaries to serve together. Many volunteers had never worked with those from other Conferences, but this experience fostered mutual understanding, deep connections, and moments of joy.

When Dewan Camelia was suddenly scheduled to close, JKM and MPSJ officers urgently asked if we could assist with final clean-up. Despite the short notice, we quickly mobilized volunteers – some extended their service hours while others joined at the last minute. Though our numbers were small, they were enough. That evening, volunteers folded and stored tents with care. Before leaving, officials invited the MCRD volunteers for a group photo, expressing their sincere gratitude.

Each support team may have their own uniform, their own colour. Ours was blue—a calm and peaceful hue. But more than a uniform, we hope this blue came to symbolize something greater. As Matthew 5:16 says, “Let your light shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your Father in heaven.”

May this ‘blue’ not only represent MCRD’s work but also reflect the spirit of the Methodist Church and the witness of Christ’s love. Through our actions, may peace, compassion, and hope shine in times of darkness—bringing glory to God.

Mission Trip to Ulu Entaih and Ulu Kemalih

By Michelle Ereena Anak Nyelang (Kobm Pasar Bintangor)

On 21-23 March 2025, the Ministry Team from Sarikei District organized a 3-day mission trip to Ulu Kemalih, Ulu Melaban, Ulu Kemedu, Ulu Belit, and Ulu Entaih, in Sarikei Division. The ministry team visited 5 longhouses namely Rh. Panau Teberu at Ulu Kemalih, Rh. Dennis and Rh. Gimam at Ulu Melaban and Ulu Kemedu, Rh. Sumping at Ulu Belit and lastly Rh. John at Ulu Entaih. It was a mission to spread the good news of our Lord Jesus Christ to brothers and sisters of Christ who live in the longhouses in those areas.

The trip was led by the SIAC's President, Rev Bonnie Sedau and accompanied by DS Rev Olyver of Sarikei, SIAC's Lay Leader Mr Andrew Shilling, Rev Johnnycal, Mr Roslie, Mr Gangan Bani, Rev Alistair, Mr Jonathan Ugek, Mr Cyrill, Miss Daphne Runai, Miss Ria Annice, Mdm Lijai, Rev Mathias, Mdm Nehemiah Ninting and Miss Michelle from Bintangor, Betong and Sibul Iban Methodist Church respectively.

It was indeed a memorable and challenging trip as our pastors cum drivers manoeuvred the dirt roads for about 3 hours to reach the first longhouse. We had a taste of some offroad driving experience when we got stuck a few times along the route and needed some assistance from the local Samaritans to help pull us through the muddy roads.

On the second day of the trip, we had to split into 2 teams in order to be able to reach out to the remaining longhouses which were distances apart and needed to be visited simultaneously. Praise the Lord, while ministering at one of the longhouses, our prayers and preachings had opened the hearts of our brothers and sisters who were still in bondage with some of their old beliefs despite their baptism into the faith.

On the last day of the trip, we joined the local congregation at Rh. John for the Sunday Service where SIAC's President, Rev Bonnie Sedau performed the Dedication Service of their new church. While at the same longhouse, the team could not resist the sound of the cascading waterfall nearby and enjoyed a dip or two before departing for home.

Despite the exhausting journey throughout the 3 days, it was indeed a spiritually fulfilling mission trip for us amidst the great fellowship and encountering our brethren who are ever hungry for the Word of God.

All Glory to God for the blessed mission trip and thank you to all the brothers and sisters in Christ at the 5 longhouses who showered us with their love and hospitality by providing accommodation and sumptuous meals. Puji Tuhan!

Teacher's Day Message from The Bishop

Dear Administrators and Educationists of our Wesley Methodist Schools and Kindergartens, Peace be with all of you.

Just yesterday, someone sent me the following quote:

"You are not here merely to make a living; you are here in order to enable the world to live more amply, with greater vision, with a finer spirit of hope and achievement. You are here to enrich the world, and you impoverish yourself if you forget the errand."

These words were spoken by Mr Woodrow Wilson in a speech he delivered to the students at Princeton University in 1906 when he was the University's President. This quote speaks about living with intention and purpose. It encourages us to remember why we are here. We are not here just to survive but to contribute to the greater good and help others.

In any role we hold - whether full-time, part-time, paid, or volunteer - we are meant to enable the world to live more amply, with greater vision. Our presence should enrich the world and those around us. In our case, it is to enrich our families, our students, and our nation.

When Mr. Wilson says, "you impoverish yourself if you forget the errand," he means that if we forget our higher purpose - our duty to help others, to bring hope, vision, and achievement to the world - we diminish our own lives. We are not here just to make money or survive; we are here to make a meaningful contribution.

And so, we need a renewed mission - a continual reminder of why we do what we do. We must live with intention and service, always mindful of the purpose behind our work.

Mr. Wilson knew what he was called to, and he fulfilled his purpose with dedication. He later became the 28th President of the United States, offering strong leadership during World War I and working toward world peace. For his efforts in establishing peace, he was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1919.

Friends, our work goes beyond earning a salary. We are here to touch lives, witness transformation, and uplift our students. When we lose sight of that mission, we not only diminish their growth but also our own purpose and calling.

I wish you all a blessed Teacher's Day, and I pray that you will continue to live up to the vocation you have chosen. God bless you in your important mission.

"Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart, as working for the Lord, not for human masters."
- Colossians 3:23 (NIV).

CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE FROM THE BISHOP OF THE METHODIST CHURCH IN MALAYSIA

The Methodist Church in Malaysia is joyously celebrating the 140th Anniversary of Education and Ministry.

It is with great happiness that I note our Mission Schools are also marking their own anniversaries. Some of our Methodist Schools across the nation - in the Peninsula and in Sarawak - have celebrated their centennial anniversaries over the past few decades.

The history of our Schools reflects the legacy of those who laid the foundation through selfless sacrifice—individuals like William Oldham, Sophia Blackmore, Emma Shellabear, Daniel Moore, Balderstone, Pykett, Kensett, Horley, James and Ethel Hoover, Preston Peach, Ada Pugh, Samuel Abraham, John and Muriel Pilley, Mabel Marsh, Eklund, Kesselring, and countless others who gave of themselves for a noble cause.

Following in their footsteps, individuals such as J. A. Supramaniam, S. S. Pakianathan, Ho Seng Ong, Goh Hood Keng, E. S. Lau, Lau Kuok Ding, Athimuthu, Doraisamy, Peter Lim, G. S. Arumugam, Teerath Ram, Yong Chee Seng, and Rasammah Bhupalan, to name just a few, played vital roles in further strengthening and advancing our Methodist Schools.

In those early years, it was said that school staff would donate one month's salary to support the growth of the school - a time when salaries were modest, and bonuses were unheard of. Yet, they made this sacrifice willingly.

For our Methodist Schools to continue thriving and providing quality education, it remains essential that the staff continue to make sacrifices. The pioneers knew nothing of the future, but they came and made great sacrifices for us. If they could do so, why can't we, in turn, sacrifice for our fellow Malaysians today?

Methodist mission schools have played a crucial role in shaping Malaysian society, offering quality education to children from all walks of life. Methodist institutions have established themselves as revered centres of learning, renowned for their excellence and commitment to the highest standards of education. Even during the difficult days of World War II and the Japanese Occupation, our educators stood firm, unwavering in their commitment to providing education. Through our Schools and the Church's social initiatives, the Methodist Church has continued to play an integral role in nation-building, instilling the values of faith, service, and education.

Today, we are blessed to have 70 government-aided Methodist mission schools, 8 Wesley Methodist Schools, the Pilley Institute in Sibul, a Vocational School in Sitiawan, and the Methodist College Kuala Lumpur (MCKL) which has campuses in Kuala Lumpur and Penang.

I pray that the core values and ethos of our Schools remain steadfast. The respect for human dignity and the worth of each person, the active participation of the Board of Governors (BOG) and Board of Managers (BOM), the involvement of chaplains, chapel services for Christian students and teachers, the teaching of Bible Knowledge to Christian students, Christian artifacts, and commemorative plaques of milestones, as well as school Christian fellowships, Boys' Brigade, Girls' Brigade, the observance of Good Friday, dedication services for new buildings, and fund-raising activities must all continue for the well-being of our Schools. School badges and songs are symbols of pride and should remain as enduring representations of our Schools' ideals.

I would like to introduce the concept of One School, One Vision for our Schools and Boards to embrace. This concept represents the unity and shared purpose between the school and its broader community. My hope is that this phrase - One School, One Vision - will bring a strong, singular focus on a common goal that drives both educators and students alike. It means that everyone - students, teachers, parents, and the community - are aligned and working toward the same vision: fostering holistic growth, promoting values-based education, and making a positive impact on society.

I envision this phrase as a symbol of collective dedication, underscoring the importance of collaboration in building a shared future. It also highlights the commitment of both the school and its community to nurture the minds and spirits of students, supporting each other as we work together to achieve common educational and ethical goals.

I would also like to take this opportunity to express my deepest gratitude to the Kementerian Pelajaran Malaysia, the various Pejabat-pejabat Pendidikan in the different districts and States, the Boards of Managers and Governors, the administrators and educators in our Schools, as well as all school staff, parents, and students (past and present) for your continued support. I extend my thanks to the Kementerian Kewangan Malaysia and the State Governments for the funding allocated to our mission schools. I humbly urge that further funds be allocated to ensure the ongoing maintenance and enhancement of our school buildings, tables and chairs, and educational facilities.

May our Schools, along with our dedicated educators and students, be richly blessed. May God's grace shine upon all our anniversary celebrations and the efforts we make to ensure the success of our Methodist Schools.

When our Schools thrive, Malaysia prospers.

Blessings,

Honouring Educators, Upholding Excellence - Wesley Methodist School Celebrates Teachers' Day with Gratitude and Purpose

At Wesley Methodist School (WMS), we believe that teachers are not just instructors—they are mentors, and key vessels in God's mission for education. This year, we celebrated Teachers' Day, not just with flowers and gifts, but with heartfelt appreciation and prayers.

Each teacher at WMS plays a vital role in shaping the minds and hearts of the next generation. Rooted in our mission to provide Christ-centred, values-driven education, WMS teachers carry the responsibility of upholding both academic excellence and moral integrity in the classroom. They are the pillars of the school, anchoring the community with their commitment, faith, and love for students.

In our Teachers' Day celebration, students and staff came together to express their gratitude in creative and joyful ways—through student-led performances, thoughtful tributes, and school-wide prayers. The celebration served as a reminder of the sacred calling of educators. We give thanks for every teacher's effort, and we pray that God would continue to work through them powerfully renewing their strength, refining their craft, and reviving their sense of purpose.

WMS continues to emphasise quality education as a pursuit of excellence that honours God. This cannot happen without teachers who are passionate, skilled, and spiritually grounded. We believe that the quality of a school is directly linked to the quality of its educators. That is why we commit to supporting our teachers holistically—academically, emotionally, and spiritually.

As we move forward, we invite the wider Methodist community to pray alongside us:

- That God would raise more faithful Christian educators in our nation;
- That WMS teachers would continue to grow in wisdom and grace;
- That our schools would always be places where truth, love, and learning flourish together.

To our teachers at WMS and across all Methodist educational institutions, THANK YOU. You are the heart of our mission, and we praise God for your lives and leadership.

Passion Week 2025

By Datin Claren Chen, Passion Week Co-ordinator

Passion Week 2025 – a week-long event for students aged 10-18 years, came to a close a day before Easter. The 4th edition of this event evolved from an in-house online event for WMS schools to an international event carried out both online and in-person hubs. It saw a total participation of 2,907 students. 164 volunteers from our Methodist community and numerous other Christians from different denominations came together as facilitators, tech team, worksheet creators and prayer warriors to support this event.

Passion Week aims to present the Good News of Jesus’ death and resurrection to students and help them think through its significance in their lives. This trilingual event also offers a platform for students with various religious, economic and cultural backgrounds to interact with each other. In 2025, we had participants from both mission and non-mission schools, from Christian fellowships, Brigade companies and hostels, from cities to villages across Malaysia, and other nations such as Timor-Leste, Philippines, Nigeria and Indonesia. The common factor is that they all came together to hear about Jesus.

These testimonies provide a glimpse into how the Holy Spirit impacted students and facilitators alike:

Students’ prayers:

Dear God, Thank You for the gift of Passion Week—a journey that has opened my heart in a deeper way. As I followed the steps of Jesus from Palm Sunday to the Cross and the empty tomb, I’ve come to see just how far Your love goes. I’ve learned that real love is sacrificial, not just in words, but in action.

亲爱的天父，感谢祢赐予我们生命，并以耶稣基督的牺牲向我们展现无比的爱。在这 Passion Week，我用心聆听祢的故事，感受祢的痛苦，也见证祢的荣耀。我学到了顺服、谦卑和无条件的爱。祂甘愿承担罪恶，为我们铺平通向永生的道路。这让我深思，祢的爱是何等宽广，我该如何回应。....

Ya Allah Bapa yang Mahakuasa, terima kasih telah memberi saya kesempatan untuk mengikuti minggu passion ini. Atas berkatmu saya telah mempelajari dan mengingat kembali kisah sengsara Tuhan Yesus Kristus yang telah mati di kayu salib demi menyelamatkan umat manusia dari belenggu dosa. Semua ini saya mohon dalam nama Tuhan Yesus Kristus penyelamat kami Amen.

Testimonies from facilitators/teachers:

“During this Passion Week, every message shared and every session where I had the privilege to moderate the discussion, left an indelible lesson that I deeply treasured.....Thank you for making this possible for the students to have their voices heard and for us adults to witness what God is doing in these young lives across our nation.”

“Shalom, saya Salah seorang guru Fasilitator diperingkat sekolah Sy (SKKMII) sepanjang minggu Easter ini. Saya mau sharing sedikit respon murid2 kami sepanjang minggu Easter ini. Murid2 Kristen kami Dari pelbagai dominasi Gereja. Tetapi, program ini telah membuatkan kepelbagaian latar belakang murid kami dipersatukan utk satu sesi pembelajaran tentang Sumber Keselamatan. Ada diantara murid kami yang baru mengerti maksud Salib Kristus itu. Sebab, kata mereka sering melihat simbol Salib atau Salib yg orang Kristen guna itu hanya logo org Kristen semata-mata sama seperti logo organisasi. Tetapi, melalui program ini telah membuka pengertian mereka bahawa Salib itu punya makna yang lebih dalam utk mereka mengerti. Puji Tuhan.

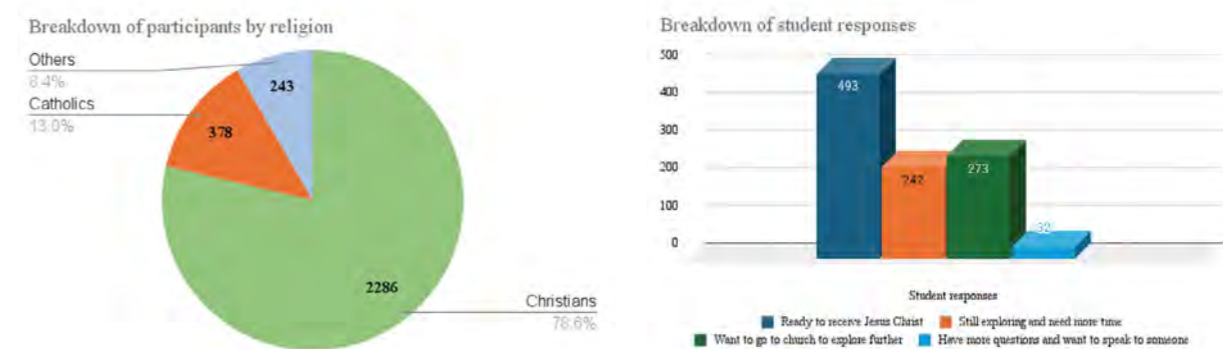

“我要赞美耶稣，因祂胜过了罪，胜过了死亡，胜过了黑暗。魔鬼借着我的住宅区突然停电阻碍我进ZOOM，因祂不要同学们有机会信耶稣，但耶稣是真光，祂仍在掌权，在我讲到耶稣复活时，电供突然恢复了，电风扇吹来了徐徐凉风，是多么的舒畅。出黑暗入光明的生命境况也是因着耶稣的复活而特别舒畅，因为不再受罪的辖制。

“2 students shared that they did not read the Bible because they thought the stories were not true. Now they really know the Bible is true.”

“I volunteered to be a facilitator thinking I’m there to guide the students but, I have come to realise something unexpected, I am the one being taught.”

Passion Week is only made possible when organisations such as Scripture Union, Our Daily Bread (M), Boys’ Brigade Malaysia, Girls’ Brigade Malaysia, Sabah Interdenominational Education Committee, Teachers’ Christian Fellowship & Federation of Christian Mission Schools Malaysia collaborate with the Methodist Council of Education. It offers a valuable platform to shape and strengthen our students’ faith in a rare event that has also received official approval from the Ministry of Education. Our prayer is that as we move on with follow-up, the Gospel seeds planted will take root and grow. In all that has happened at Passion Week 2025, we saw God moving amongst us. To Him alone be all glory, honour and praise.

A Classic Comes to Life: West Side Story at WMSKLI

Wesley Methodist School Kuala Lumpur International (WMSKLI) lit up the stage with its annual concert, this year presenting a breathtaking production of the legendary Broadway musical, West Side Story. Held over two nights on March 21 and 22, 2025, the event proved once again that WMSKLI is a beacon of creativity, collaboration, and excellence in the performing arts.

Timeless Tale, Fresh Energy

Originally written by Leonard Bernstein, Stephen Sondheim, and Arthur Laurents, West Side Story is a beloved classic set in 1950s New York. The musical follows the tragic love story of Tony, a member of the white American Jets, and Maria, sister of the Puerto Rican Sharks' leader. Their romance blooms amid fierce gang rivalry, racial tension, and societal division — ultimately ending in heartbreak, but also prompting reflection on prejudice, hate, and the longing for peace.

WMSKLI's rendition brought this timeless tale to life with vibrant performances, dynamic choreography, and stunning visuals, proving that the themes of love, conflict, and social inequality are just as relevant today as they were decades ago.

A Showcase of Talent and Dedication

This year's production featured the remarkable efforts of approximately 700 students from Year 7 to Year 10. Under the guidance of passionate teachers, students committed countless hours to perfecting their acting, singing, and dancing — culminating in a high-calibre show that left over 600 audience members in awe.

From bold choreography to emotionally charged duets, each performance radiated energy and heart. Songs like Tonight, America, Somewhere, and I Feel Pretty brought the house down, while the school's talented team choreographed and directed each moment with finesse and flair.

Immersive Production and Powerful Message

The visual elements of the show were equally unforgettable. Thoughtfully designed sets, authentic costumes, and impactful lighting transported the audience straight into the gritty streets of New York's West Side. Every detail was carefully crafted to enhance the storytelling and immerse viewers in the emotional journey of the characters.

Beyond the impressive stagecraft, the concert also served as a powerful commentary on race, class, and identity. Through the lens of Tony and Maria's forbidden love, the audience was invited to consider how systemic division, and social structures can stifle even the most genuine hopes and dreams.

WMSKLI's West Side Story was more than just a school concert — it was a celebration of artistic excellence and a testament to the school's "Above and Beyond" spirit. It united students, educators, families, and friends in a shared experience that highlighted the transformative power of the arts.

As the final curtain fell, it was clear: West Side Story at WMSKLI wasn't just a performance. It was a moment. One that will live on in the hearts of all who witnessed it.

From MCKL to Messiah University: Hazel's Journey of Faith, Growth, and Global Learning

Hazel during the International Gala Week

Pioneering a path that bridges academic excellence and personal transformation, Hazel Lim, an alumna of Methodist College Kuala Lumpur (MCKL), has been awarded the prestigious Moey-Phipps Exclusive Scholarship at Messiah University, USA, where she is pursuing a dual degree in Mathematics and Computer Science. Her inspiring story highlights not just her academic achievements, but also the enduring values that have nurtured her along the way.

Hazel began her journey in MCKL's American Degree Transfer Program (ADTP), where she developed a deep appreciation for critical thinking and holistic learning. "In MCKL, I learned to understand the 'whys' behind the academic syllabus, not just how to solve problems, but the reasoning behind them," she reflects. "Coming from that solid academic foundation, Messiah has continued to stretch me, especially in a more personal and spiritual manner. Here, I am learning to explore the faith whys and how beliefs intersect with learning, community, and life."

Now at Messiah University, Hazel continues to thrive in a close-knit, supportive environment that encourages students to grow beyond academics. "It might be intimidating at first to be in a whole new country," she admits, "but people here genuinely care and want to help you grow and succeed. My advice to MCKL students considering Messiah? Do not be afraid to reach out to professors, peers, or student organisations. Everyone here wants to see you do well."

The support she received from the Messiah community was especially crucial in her early days abroad. "Professors are always approachable; they take time to talk and give helpful feedback," she says. "And I have found so much comfort in the Christian community here, which makes me feel at home even while I am far from Malaysia."

Outside the classroom, Hazel has embraced new challenges and broadened her horizons. From attending Multicultural Council Club (MCC) events to joining the university's esports team, she has taken intentional steps to step out of her comfort zone. "These experiences have helped me meet people I would not have otherwise crossed paths with," she shares. "Even though I am not someone who is constantly out and about, they've been meaningful and rewarding."

Hazel's journey stands as a powerful testament to the global pathways available through MCKL, where students are empowered to pursue education abroad while staying grounded in their values.

With the Moey-Phipps Exclusive Scholarship, she not only celebrates personal success but also inspires others to follow their calling, wherever it may lead.

ADTP is a flexible credit transfer programme that gives students a seamless transition to universities across the United States. They are allowed to explore a wide range of courses from various fields. Students enrolled in ADTP at MCKL will have the privilege to access exclusive scholarships and financial aid offered by our renowned partner universities to make the college experience more affordable.

MCKL's ADTP programme is open for the August 2025 intake. For more information, visit www.mckl.edu.my
